

Front Hub Air Deflector Shields

If you have a cool brake duct kit on your 911 or 914, and you don't have our hub shields, an incredible 50% of the air ducted to the rotors will go right out the hub vanes and not through the rotor eye to carry away the heat. These precision laser-cut stainless steel shields fit perfectly into the front wheel hubs of '65 to '89 911/930 and all 914's with 5 bolt hubs. '944's, '964's, '993's and '996's don't need shields by virtue of their hub and rotor designs.

Brake Duct Air Manifolds

914, 911, & 930's '89 & Earlier
To provide a quick and easy-to-install air manifold that will allow proper and safe air ducting of the 2.5" air hose from the front valance/air dam area to the rotor brake duct. The clamshell manifolds ensure two things; one, that the air hose won't be torn off by the tire rubbing on it and two, to eliminate the reduction in the amount of lost air volume caused by crushed or worn-through air hoses. Additionally, they are offset downward to ensure that on very low cars, the manifolds won't hit the body itself and damage themselves. Kit does not include hose.

Fabcar Dual Master Cylinder Kit

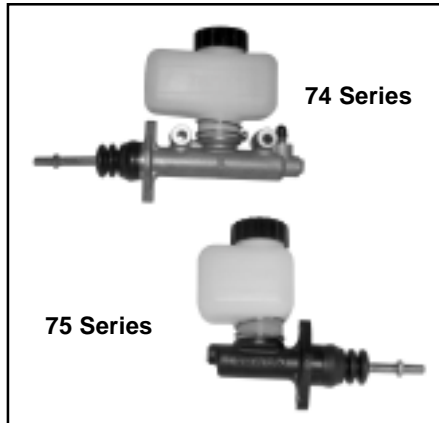

Get the pedal feel and proportion you want. These kits convert the '78-'89 911's, or the C2's and 993's to dual master cylinders (early cars can be converted to use the '78-'89 kit). It is literally a bolt-in kit that allows easy changing of the master cylinder sizes. Comes with two Tilton master cylinders. Beautifully made by Fabcar. The proportion adjusting knob and line adapting kit sold separately.
